DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1 – 5, 7, 10, 11 - 14, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Flora et al. (EP 1 211 918) in view of Reid (US 6,589,354). Flora et al. have a system and method of mitigating debris particles in a lithographic apparatus. The apparatus has an illumination structure comprising a laser that produces a EUV plasma source, a support for a reflective mask and a support for the wafer. See the embodiments in Figs. 5 – 9. The mitigating system has a non-ionized gas source, krypton, which interacts with the contaminant particles and ions to mitigate them. Particle generation forms part of the radiation source. One of ordinary skill in the art would have known that that there are other means of generating plasma and would have used Radio Frequency induction coils if they provides a more economic or space saving feature.

Reid teaches that an ionized gas will neutralize the electrostatic attraction of ionized contaminants and dislodge the contaminants from a surface. The flow of the additional particles is different from the direction of the contaminants and the direction of the radiation beam. The arrangement uses ionized gas 140, ducts provide an outlet and a collector 115 of the particles, while the exhaust pump, etc. serve to control the flow of the particles 150. One of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would be motivated to ionize the krypton gas to enhance the mitigation of the debris particles.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 6, 8, 9, and 15 – 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior does not suggest or teach supersonic flow of the additional particles; nor provide a plurality of electrodes as claimed.
